

FOUR SEASONS AT ANAHITA

Smart and saucy, with vast open villas where the light just pours in. This is a slick operator with clout. Arrive from the airport via speedboat (30 minutes – quicker than the car and so much more smiley) and suck up the giant glass doors and open-air showers. Huge windows, huge beds – this is a Four Seasons with swagger. It's a sprawling tropical garden of a place, so cruise by bike between the four restaurants, the golf course and the pools. There are stilted, decked treatment rooms at the over-water spa and Sweet Lava cocktails at the bar – rum and sugar mango with a feisty chilli kick. The bay here is very sheltered, making it the best spot for sunset waterskiing. Website fourseasons.com. Book it ITC Classics (tel: 01244 355527) offers five nights from £1,950, half board, including flights and transfers.

206 Tatler

Four Seasons Resort at Anahita – Tatler March 2011